PROSPECT IS GOOD FOR MORE FIGHTING

Conditions at Port Arthur are Still Disputed.

Japanese are Being Reinforced on Land and Preparing for Battle.

SKIRMISHING REPORTED DAILY

London, Nov. 18.—The fact that the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Rastoropny (which arrived at Chefoo Wednesday) left Port Arthur much later than the date of Stoenzel's published report, which relates nothing later than Nov. 3, is regarded as significant.

Special dispatches from Tien Tsin report a heavy bombardment of Port Arthur as late as Nov. 12. The Telegraph's Tien Tsin correspondent says he has received a report that the Japanese have suddenly advanced in the direction of Mukden from which place they are only 12 miles distant.

A Few Skirmishes.

Stoessel's Wound.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 18.—It is reported over the undamned spirit displayed by General Stoessel in his telegram of congratulation to Emperor Nicholas on the anniversary of his accession to the throne and officially announcing the failure of Nogi's nine-day attempt to present Port Arthur to the mikado as a birthday gift, is tempered by private information that the gallant commander of the garrison has been wounded. Stoessel was struck in the head by a splinter from a shell while he was personally directing a repulse of particularly desperate assault but fortunately the wound is not serious.

No Severe Hitch.

Paris, Nov. 18.—Official advice from St. Petersburg show that the hitch which has occurred in the Anglo-Russian convention for arbitrating the North sea incident is not regarded as serious.

Suspicion Against Chinese.

Berlin, Nov. 18.—The Lokal Anzeiger prints a dispatch from Mukden saying:

It is confirmed from various quarters that the Japanese have double-tracked the railroad from Port Dalney to Liao-Yang. Thirty trains are running daily.

Chinese General Ma has received reinforcements again and has installed further Japanese military instructors. The Russians regard him with deep suspicion and are keeping a sharp watch of his actions.

Holding Out Well.

Chefoo, Nov. 18.—A Russian who has just arrived here from Port Arthur reports that the fortress is holding out well, despite the three months of almost continuous bombardment. He says the report that the Japanese blew up fort No. 2, is incorrect. The Japanese attempted to mine the fort, but the Russians countermined them, blew up the Japanese tunnel and stopped their advance.

Deroated Tomb of Washington.

Washington, Nov. 18.—Prince Fushimura yesterday visited Mount Vernon, placed a wreath on the tomb of Washington and planted a tree on the old estate of the first president.

The trip there and back was made on the president's yacht, the Slyph. As the prince entered and left the navy yard the marines gave him prescribed honors and he was given a salute of twenty-one guns, and two hundred blue jackets on the Hartford stood in the rigging.

TOOK LAUDANUM

Mrs. JOHN BULGER WAS SAVED BY ARRIVAL OF PHYSICIANS.

Mrs. John Bulger, of South Sixth street, who it is said, took laudanum right before last with suicidal intent, is getting along nicely and is out of danger. Drs. J. S. Troutman and Bertram Wiatra were called and found but few symptoms of poisoning. The members of the family thought she had taken the drug. It is claimed a colored woman saw her drink the poison. Domestic trouble is said to have prompted the attempt.

AT ZEIGLER.

Trouble is Expected at Any Time With Strikers.

COL. BRECKINRIDGE WORSE.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 18.—Bulleit issued at noon state that Col. Breckinridge had a turn for the worse, today grave fears are felt that he will not survive the day. He has not recovered the power of speech.

Holding Out Well.

Chefoo, Nov. 18.—A Russian who has just arrived here from Port Arthur reports that the fortress is holding out well, despite the three months of almost continuous bombardment. He says the report that the Japanese blew up fort No. 2, is incorrect. The Japanese attempted to mine the fort, but the Russians countermined them, blew up the Japanese tunnel and stopped their advance.

Japs Repulsed.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 18.—Kuropatkin telegraphs November 16:

A POSSE NOW IN PURSUIT

SEVEN ARRESTED IN CHICAGO

Williamsburg, Ky., Nov. 18.—Near Cumberland Falls, Geo. Curd was killed. Thomas Curd was fatally wounded and Emma Durham killed, and her body burned in her cabin.

The Curd brothers inherited considerable land from their father's estate, and moved on it last summer to care for the timber.

They put the Durham woman on one tract to hold it, and as they were passing near the house were fired upon.

Thomas fell over a bank and crawled two miles home.

George was dead when found.

It is supposed the Durham woman was killed to hide the identity of the assailants. A large searching party has gone this morning to the scene.

The Curd family is one of the oldest and wealthiest in the county.

MORE BLOODSHED

Seems Imminent as a Result of Chicago Strike.

Furniture Wagon Drivers Go Out as the Strike Will Spread.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—With seven firms already involved in the strike of furniture wagon drivers, steps were taken today to spread the strike to thirteen other firms of the Furniture Manufacturers' association. The coal teamsters may also join the strike.

If the determination of the leaders is carried out, one of the bitterest fights that has taken place in recent years in the local labor world is predicted. The strike opened yesterday with rioting and fighting in the streets and more trouble is predicted, as furniture dealers said they will continue deliveries with non-union drivers and it is expected the wagons will be attacked as soon as they appear in the streets, even though loaded by police. The point at issue is the refusal of employers to sign contracts with the drivers. There is no question of wages involved.

TWELVE KILLED.

Explosion of Gas at Chicago Does Great Damage.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Twelve men are supposed to have been killed and ten injured by a series of gas explosions today at the plant of the Pyle National Electric Headlight Co., and the People's Gas Light Co. A fierce fire followed the explosion, which partially wrecked the dwellings within a radius of several blocks.

PADUCAH RABBI RECEIVES A CALL

Popular Young Divine Invited to Toledo, O.

Offered One of the Largest Synagogues in That Place.

Rabbi David Alexander, of Temple Israel, has received a most flattering offer from Toledo, Ohio. He has been called to the Reformed Synagogue there, and has a chance to preside over the largest flock in Toledo, and the only Reformed congregation there.

The call came last night, and Rabbi Alexander has not had time to make up his mind what he will do.

He has been in charge of Temple Israel for the past two or three years, and from the first made a fine impression on the people of Paducah.

He is a young man who has steadily risen in the estimation of members of all churches who know him, and the call from a city like Toledo is only a fitting recognition of his ability.

Should Rabbi Alexander decide to leave, Paducah will doubtless have the distinction of repeating her experience in the case of Rabbi H. G. Enelow, who was called to Louisville about four years ago.

Rabbi Enelow was for several years in charge of Temple Israel here and his studious work, eloquent and charming manner won him prompt recognition elsewhere, and he is now rabbi of the largest synagogue in the state. He is regarded as one of the bravest young men of the country, and Rabbi Alexander is a young man of the same disposition, accomplished and popular and would doubtless succeed as his predecessor has done.

Rabbi Alexander stated today that he had not made up his mind what to do. He has made many friends in Paducah, and married one of Paducah's most charming daughters, Miss Irene Schwab, daughter of Mr. Lee Schwab. He is naturally very fond of the city, but may decide that it is to his interest to accept the call received last night. He will decide in a few days.

MURDERER MADE THREATS.

Auburn, Cal., Nov. 18.—At the inquiry into the murder of the Weber family, Mrs. E. C. Snowden, aunt of Adolph Weber, testified that Adolph came to her house, shook his fist in her face and said:

"You have stated that I am responsible for the murder of my family. I want you to swear out a warrant for my arrest. Your turn is coming next."

SEVEN CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Seven men are under arrest for either having knowledge of or being implicated in the murder of Natoli Sefani, the Italian whose body was found last Monday floating in the lake.

MURDERER WAS CAPTURED.

Ashland, Wis., Nov. 18.—Tony Cassiopoli is dying at Park Falls, where he was shot three times yesterday by a fellow laborer, Joseph Krapon. The murderer boarded a train but was captured at Abbottsford.

May Be Murder.

Wynadotte, Mich., Nov. 18.—The dead bodies of Henry Hillebrand and Mrs. W. J. Miller, of Detroit, were found in a buggy here early this morning. It was at first thought it was murder and suicide, but is now believed that both were murdered.

RACINO NEWS.

Dan Patch Breaks a Record and Lou Dillon Falls.

Oklahoma City, O. T., Nov. 18.—Dan Patch yesterday lowered the world's record for pacing a mile on a half-mile track, official time being 2:03 flat. The previous record was held by Dan Patch himself, was made at Birmingham, Ala., last year, being 2:03 1-4.

Lou Dillon Falls.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 18.—Lou Dillon, in an attempt to beat her former time of 2:01 1-4, today trotted a mile in 2:08.

COMING HOME.

Cairo Crowd Got the Convention.

Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 18.—The Cairo delegation, which captured the next convention of the Ohio Valley Improvement association, left for home at noon with flying colors.

DARING EXPLOIT OF RUSSIAN OFFICER

With a Steam Launch He Sank Jap Vessel.

The Japanese Evidently Thought the Destroyer Struck a Mine.

RUSSIAN IS A HERO

Chefoo, Nov. 18.—A Port Arthur newspaper, the Novikral, of Nov. 11, copies of which were brought to Chefoo by the Russian torpedo boat Rastoropny, prints brief details of a daring exploit which resulted in the sinking of a four-funnelled Japanese torpedo boat destroyer.

While Japanese torpedo boats and one destroyer were engaged in removing mines, mostly their own, from Tache bay on Nov. 3, Midshipman Dimitrieff conceived the idea that he could torpedo the Japanese boats under cover of darkness, as the latter were very busy and enjoying a faceted security.

Yesterday two hundred marines from the Empire camp arrived here. General Huertas, minister of war, has announced his intention to resign, which will clear the political atmosphere. Though disturbances are not feared, under present circumstances Panama is greatly excited.

Reports had it that several army officers, including Gen. Murias, commander-in-chief of the troops, were concerned. One report says the plan of the revolutionists was to kidnap President Amador.

An outbreak was averted by energetic steps of the government, aided by American Charge d'Affairs Lee.

OPEN SESSION OF SCHOOL SOCIETIES

An Interesting Programme Has Been Prepared.

The Literary Societies of High School Building Will Consolidate.

INVITATIONS ARE SENT OUT

On the afternoon of December 9th, an open session of the consolidated literary societies of the High school building will be held and invitations to parents issued. This will be the only open session given by the four societies consolidated this year, and much interest is taken in the event.

The teachers in the High school building for convenience and to better the work, divided the literary society into four sections and every two weeks one section meets in session. The pupils and teachers both thought it would be an excellent idea to consolidate and give one big entertainment and have prepared the following program:

The Program.

Chorus, Revel of the Leaves, Miss Carrie Hatt, pianist.

Recitation, Mr. Norvin Allen.

Phano Duet, Misses Edna Wilhelm and Carrie Hatt.

Essay, Miss Dow Gilson.

Vocal Duet, Misses Marjorie Loving and J. L. Hobson.

Recitation, Miss Sadie Smith.

Phano Solo, Miss Helen Hills.

Debate: "Resolved, That American Statesmen Have Done More For the Country Than American Warriors."—Affirmative, Mr. Grover
Burns and Miss Blanche Ingram.

Negative, Mr. Will Bell and Miss Eloise Bradshaw.

Vocal Solo, Miss Mildred Soule.

Miss Hunter H. Soule, pianist.

Piano and Violin Duet, Mr. Clark and Miss Mary Houdrant.

Impromptu Speeches, Mr. Henry
Cave and Miss Carrie Hatt.

Quartette (M. L. Roberts, accompanist) Miss Claire St. John, sop-ranist; Hilda Lee Jones alto; Carl Leigh, tenor; Felix St. John, basso.

Recitation, Miss Addie Miller.

Violin Duet, Miss Lucille Perryman
and Mr. Clifford Heddick, Miss Bessie Seymore, accompanist.

This is one of the most complete programs ever arranged for a school literary society meeting and foreseening a big attendance at the entertainment, the teachers and principals have decided that only those regularly invited will be admitted. Regular invitation cards will be printed and sent to parents and relatives of the pupils. The entertainment will be given in the auditorium of the High school, where there are about 200 seats.

Prior to the entertainment, an election will be held by the school to name a president of the consolidated societies and the president, who ever he may be will have a number on the program. His number will come in the first of the program.

NEW FRONT

DUBOIS & CO. TO PUT IN A
ONCE.

The front of the handsome Dubois, Koth & Co. drug store, on Broadway between Fourth and Fifth streets, will shortly be remodeled and when finished will make one of the prettiest fronts in the city.

There seems to have been an epidemic of window front remodeling since the big Ogilvie store was built.
Weill and Wallenstein followed in new fronts and now the Dubois store will step in line.

The entire present front will be torn out and a new plate glass front put in with prism lights above and marble base. The work will begin as soon as the glass and other material can be secured, and by Christmas Mr.
Dubois intends to have the work completed.

GAME AFTER LAWS

WANTED TO TAKE HIM OVER AND GIVE HIM ILLINOIS JUSTICE.

Sheriff H. H. Whitlock and Mr. R.
P. Honing, of Harrisburg, Ill., arrived in the city yesterday afternoon after H. B. Laws, alias several other things, who is wanted at Harrisburg for passing a $50 forged check on Mr.
Hornig, proprietor of a hotel there.
He did his work there October 26th and doubtless "worked" in other cities before coming to Paducah.

Chief of Police James Collins had telegraphed the Harrisburg men that Laws had been taken to Madisonville, Ky., and held for grand jury action,
and they were greatly disappointed, as they wanted to take him back and give him a dose of Illinois justice.

O. D. Traverse is the name he registered under in Illinois. The Harrisburg men returned home this morning.

COLORED CITIZEN DEAD.

Lee Boyd, a well known and respected colored citizen of Paducah, aged 82, died yesterday afternoon from pneumonia at his home at Seventh and Trimble streets, where he had lived for many years. He was an industrious, law-abiding citizen, and was prominent in colored Masonic circles. A wife and six children survive. The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon, burial at Oak Grove
by the colored Masons.

Theatrical Notes

The New York papers have referred to one feature of "Poly Primrose," which has delighted every man and woman who has a home. The second act takes place during house cleaning time at Primrose Mansion and the men are driven out of every hole and corner. The stage shows the library, the pictures wrapped in linen, and the curtains tied up, the furniture all happily in the center and covered with sheets. Polly, her mother and old Caroline, her negro mammy, wear their dresses turned back and pinned behind at the waist. Their heads are pretty done up in dust cloths and their hands are charmingly ugly in old sweeping gloves. The comedy is all as bright as can be. Miss Thun-ton will play "Polly Primrose" her-next Monday evening.

Arkansas has often been the theme of song and story, and no melody ever written has evolved more genuine pleasure than "The Arkansas Traveler." The same may be said of "Human Hearts," which is a strong story, dealing with life in the Arkansas hills, only in addition to laughter, it is mingled with heart interest and tears. "Human Hearts" will be seen at The Kentonky tomorrow matinees and night at popular prices.

"Husky Izzy" had one of the best audiences of the season at the Kentucky theatre last night. The house was top heavy to some extent, but standing room was sold in the balcony, and the lower floor was well filled.
Everybody seemed to be satisfied. George Sidney as "Izzy" is exceptionally funny, and he has a strong company.

The affair is one of the hodge-podges that fall under the general term of musical comedies, but which do not altogether belong there. It is rather a lot of songs and choruses built around a number of vaudeville specialties. Sidney, in his familiar character of a Hebrew, displays the same sort of comedy that made him popular with Ward & Vokes. However, he does not monopolize the stage, but gives full swing to others.
These include Carrie Webber, with her dances; Fred Wyckoff, with his
"Way Down East" farmer stunt;
Maud Campbell and William Mausey, in their youthful pranks and gyrations; and Charles La Mala, that freakish tramp, whose legs are as long as his voice is thin. La Mala has hidden behind his "Happy Holligan" make-up a voice that is suited to a better class of music than his part demands.

The jokes, of which there are many,
are frequently those told last year and some are not of the most refined order. Yet they are the kind that require no diagram. This style of jokes seems always to catch the fancy of people who come merely to laugh. For instance:

"No. 44 wants to be called at 6 o'clock."

"We're out of 6 o'clock calls."
"Then call him twice at 3 o'clock."
"And the crowd roars."

Among the many new songs in
"Husky Izzy" are "Back to Work,"
"Mamelle Hon'e'e," "I Ain't as Green as I Look," "I Can't Help That,"
"Johnnie Morgan," "Stella," "Fol-
the-rol-rol," "Dreams," "Dreams,"
"Spain, Beautiful Spain," "Take a Little Walk With Me," "Sunbeam
and the Rose" and "Front, Boy, Front." Besides all these, there are the individual specialties of the principals, Sidney's incomparable por-ties.

Miss Webber, unfortunately, did not appear here. She broke a bone in her ankle at Memphis and went on to St. Louis, where the company plays a week. She had on an understudy here.

New Kind of Trust.

We hear a great deal about trusts these days, but there is apparently none more bold and perfidious than the tobacco growers' combine. The Sun, along with everybody else, hopes the growers will get the best possible price for their tobacco, but it does not believe that they can legally do it by combining to pledge themselves to sell only at certain figures, or to keep the price up.

All reputable papers denounce monopoly, and a monopoly in tobacco selling is no more to be commended than a monopoly in tobacco manufacture.

Several makers of hats or anything else should meet and conspire and agree to it at a certain price and no less, this would be a "trust" within the meaning of the law. If a corporation is organized and buys up these factors, and operates them as one concern under one ownership as most of the big "trusts" do, it is not a trust under the law.

It does not prevent anyone else who desires from going into the same business, and selling at what ever price he desires. The only question is whether or not small concern can compete with large. Usually they cannot in any business.

As to the tobacco question, however, the "tobacco trust" is not a trust. It has been the government which has crushed it long ago. It is merely an immense corporation that owns most of the small concerns that were formerly competitors. If tobacco growers do not like the prices it pays in the open market for tobacco, they do not have to sell. If consumers of the weed do not like the prices it charges for the manufactured article, they can stop using it, buy from others, or raise their own.

When the tobacco growers began to, however, for the purpose of keeping up the price of tobacco, they were violating the anti-trust law. They are forming an immense combine that the big tobacco "trust" is liable to invoke federal laws against them if they get to work. The price of tobacco, like the price of everything else, must be regulated to supply and demands and quality.

Princeton, Ky., is now boasting of being one of the few interesting cities in Kentucky. Princeton at the recent election voted for waterworks bonds, while Madisonville turned down a waterworks proposition. Hopkinsville voted down a sewerage proposition. Princeton and Caldwell county, as a result, will be the only places in this end of the state to spend money for public improvements as a result of the recent election.

The Y. M. C. A.

As chronicled in the papers, a number of the leading women of the city are making an effort to in some way revive the Y. M. C. A. The directors ordered the institution closed on account of its indebtedness and the poor prospects of raising enough money to pay off the obligations and meet current expenses.

It is a very unfortunate thing, a sad coincidence in a city the size of Paducah, when one stops and thinks of it that such an institution has to close for lack of funds. It may have been managed badly, it may be the citizens of the city have not the proper pride and spirit to support the institution, but whatever the cause the plan to revive it and put it on its feet again is laudable and should receive the support of every one.

The local Y. M. C. A. has done much good in Paducah. It has worked in its field, reaching a class of people and doing a work that only such organizations do, and it is to be earnestly hoped the efforts to open it again will prove successful.

The Sun, for one, stands to do its share and hopes each of its readers will do the same.

The tribute paid to Senator Fairbanks at Indianapolis Wednesday was one of which any American citizen, no matter how prominent, might well feel proud. At a public meeting to congratulate him over his election to the vice-presidency, men of every political party were present, and he was introduced by a democrat and was praised and complimented by all present, democrats, prohibitionists and republicans alike. Senator Fairbanks is not only a man of ability, but a popular one as well and one of the greatest integrity. These qualifications always make a man's success a source of gratification to all, no matter of what political faith.

A hand is already beginning to be raised over the slowness of work on the streets, markets, houses and hospitals, but it is presumed that the best possible is being done. The work has been such as to hardly deserve a single day's delay, but progress has nevertheless been slow. When it gets a little faster the butchers will join the charmen led by those who have to go to the temporary market house in the cold, it promises to be about the coldest place in town later on. If the entire new structure looks like the end evasions when completed, however, we are in no hurry to have it completed.

Evidently the miserable little iron gravel placed on the streets of Paducah does not wear out and get up fast enough, as the city continues to pulverize the streets by rolling them without waiting them.

NOT CONFIRMED

IS REPORT OF FINDING BODY OF AN INFANT NEAR IRON FURNACE.

It is reported that the body of a fully developed white infant, evidently born dead or possibly foully dealt with, was found a day or two ago in a spin basket near the iron furnace on South Third street. The rumor cannot be verified, as no report was made to either the police or the coroner, and it is not believed that anyone making such a find would dispose of the body without reporting it to the proper authorities.

For the past two days, however, the rumor has been circulated quite freely.

THE HENDERSON WAR ENDS

The Henderson theatre war is over. It is understood the English Theatre company has disposed of its interests at Henderson to F. H. Hallam, the Pennsylvania man who bought $5,000 worth of the stock and is resident manager.

President J. E. English, of the company, has gone to St. Louis to do the fair before he returns to Paducah.

The Henderson Gleaner of yesterday says of the deal:

The deal whereby F. R. Hallam became the purchaser of the "English," was completed Tuesday afternoon, as noted in yesterday's Gleaner. J. E. English represented the English Theatre company in the deal. He left town yesterday afternoon.

Thus ends the theatre warfare that has been going on for the past three weeks, and the theatre-loving public will breathe easy again.

The new proprietor-manager of the "English" promises to book some of the very best shows now touring the United States and doubtless Henderson will see those promises fulfilled to the letter.

The last chapter of the matter will be brought to a close next Saturday, and then the English Theatre company will retire completely from the field. The consideration was not made public.

The Gleaner notes only that there is some talk of changing the name of the house.

FOREST FIRES

Woods in Flames in Portions of Marshall and McCracken.Not Much Damage Done and It Is Hoped to Subdue the Flames Soon.

Forest fires are raging in portions of Marshall and McCracken counties as a result of the long drought and the dry condition of the woods and fields.

Today there is reported quite a confusion in the vicinity of Eliza and Epperson, on the Benton road, and the smoke is so dense that much of it has drifted to the city and resembles a fog.

Last night the burning brush and woods made a bright light, and many thought there was a big fire some where nearby.

A telephone message this afternoon from down the line stated that the fire was not out, but that it was being fought valiantly by the farmers, who hope to have the flames conquered by night.

Several acres of woods have been burned already.

Arrest to be Tried, Were Won by the Policeman.

NEWS OF OTHER COURTS

CIRCUIT COURT.

This morning the last jury case on the equity docket of circuit court was finished and all the jurors finally discharged. There remain several important ordinary cases to be tried and the regular time for the final adjournment of court is next week, but Judge Reed will, it is expected, extend the time another week in order to clear this docket.

This morning Officer William Orr and bondsman won in the two damage suits brought by Frank Covington and Louis Bellot against them for $5,000 damages each for false arrest.

Officer Orr arrested the men as suspects and they were later released as no evidence could be found against them. The men then brought suits against the officer and his bondsman to recover damages for false arrest. The case was finished this morning, the jury returning a verdict in both actions for the defendant. It is understood the cases will be appealed.

On motion of the defense, the case of James Decker against Officer Gus Rogers was continued. The boy sued for $5,000 damages for false arrest and confinement in the city prison when there was no charge against him.

The case of J. W. Rice against C. H. Brothers was dismissed.

In the case of George H. Peacock against the Seacoast Mineral Co., a judgment for $200 was filed.

AN INTERESTING SUIT

A friendly suit has been filed by Mr. L. R. Girardey against the Steens, Wahl to eject them from part of the building at Third and Kentucky avenues, leased by Mr. Girardey from Mr. Philip Johnson of Florida. The terms of the lease, it is claimed, prescribe that should any sub-tenants be forced

Mrs. Martha Green Weds.

Mr. Will V. Green, of the Petter Boat Store, last night received a telegram from Beaumont, Texas, announcing the marriage of his sister, Miss Martha Green, to Mr. George C. Parker, of that place. No details are known and as no intimation had been received in advance, the event was quite a surprise to the young lady's relatives and friends in Paducah.

The bride was formerly a resident of Paducah, and is an elocutionist of exceptional ability. She often appeared in local entertainments, and was popular both socially and as an artist. She left Paducah about three years ago and went south, where she had been since, teaching elocution in several colleges, and residing for a time in Mobile, Ala.

She is a most attractive young lady and while nothing is known here of the groom, it can be truthfully said that he is a most fortunate young man. It is presumed they will reside in Beaumont.

Mr. Henry Yelser, one of the prominent business men of Cincinnati, and a brother of Mayor D. A. Yelser, of Paducah, arrived this morning at 7:30 o'clock from the south, where he had been on business. He is a former Paducahian, but has not resided here for many years.

Mr. Yelser met him at the train, and he went to the mayor's home to remain during his stay in the city. He was recently a member of the Paducah party that was at the gunboat christening in New York.

"I had been in the habit of taking cold lunches with a bottle of cold tea, but had become so bad I could not digest them, in fact I felt miserable after every meal. Well I quit both tea and coffee and after commencing to use the Postum I began to feel better at once and have not had a bilious spell since and no more indigestion.

I would be more than glad to find something that would make me prosper financially as that piece of newspaper did physically.

A Siesta In The Jungle

(Copyright, 1904, by T. C. McClure.)

Major Hildan of the Twelfth native cavalry, India, was hunting in Bengal with a small party, and one afternoon he wandered away from camp a short distance and stretched out under a tree for a nap. He had not slept above a quarter of an hour when he was aroused by what seemed to be the purring of a cat, only the sound was much louder. He had never heard the purr of a tiger or panther, but realized in an instant that one or the other had come creeping upon him as he slept. He was lying on his left side and facing the west, and the beast had come up behind him.

The major opened his eyes, but did not move a finger. The beast's nose touched the man's shoulder and snuffed at his face, and the long whiskers on his muzzle tickled the man's cheek, but he did not move. Had he raised hand or foot the beast would have seized him by the neck at once.

The tiger, as was afterward ascertained, had his lair within a few hundred feet of where the soldier was lying. After a minute or two a paw was placed on the officer's shoulder and he was turned over on the broad of his back. Through his eye winkers he caught sight of the paw and then realized that he was in the clutch of a full grown tiger. For the moment he was rejoiced. A panther hasn't the good nature of a tiger and is also more treacherous. A tiger will starve before he will feed on anything that he has not killed with his own paws, while a panther will grab at anything that comes in his way. Between the two the choice was with the tiger, and the major felt almost elated over his luck.

When the man had been turned on his back, the tiger sat np like a dog and purred like the great cat he was. The man laid on a hunting jacket with silver buttons. They seemed to be objects of curiosity to the beast, and he touched the six of them in succession and slightly pulled at them with his paw.

The soldier's hat was lying on the grass near his head. The tiger reached for it and began to play with it as you have seen a puppy with a glove or rag. He struck it to the right and then to the left and then jumped after it and seized it in his teeth and gave it a toss into the air. He played with the hat for at least ten minutes and then sat up and yawned and returned to his paw.

Pretty soon a spur on the major's right boot heel attracted his attention. It was of brass and quite new and reflected the rays of the sun filtering down through the foliage. He licked at the metal and hurt his tongue on the rowel.

With a low growl he drew back and for a minute seemed to cogitate. Then he began licking at and biting the strap, which was also new and full of oil, and in a minute or two he had the spur off the boot. He then lay down and chewed at the strap as if he liked the taste, but after a time dung it aside and rolled over on his back and worked his body about on the grass as if bothered with fleas.

The beast was rolling and purring when one of the horses in camp started to neigh. The major was watching through half closed lids, and the move the tiger made astonished him. He turned like a dash and bounded six feet into the air, to whirl again and stand back to earth. For five minutes he stood watching and sniffing and growling. His tail was held straight out, his ears lay back, and one paw was held about six inches from the ground as if ready to strike. As the neigh was not repeated the tiger returned to the major.

The major was rolled over at least a dozen times by the tiger, and the beast leaped over him back and forth like a dog at play, and he seemed to get a good deal of amusement out of it and to preserve his good nature. He finally fastened his teeth in the man's hunting belt and lifted him clear of the ground as easily as a man might lift a kitten. If the soldier had not been told over and over again that a tiger eats only what he kills, he would have made sure that he was to be carried off.

He had a revolver in his belt, and as his right hand fell down it encountered the butt of the weapon. He might have drawn it and killed the beast at a shot, but it was hardly a chance in a hundred. It may be that the tiger was holding the man up to see if there was life in him and was hoping to feed him make a movement. If there had been the stir of a baird, death would have been swift and merciless. After swinging the man pendulum fashion for a full minute the beast laid him down as curefully as you please, gunned the belt in two and pulled it off, and, carrying one end in his mouth, he frolicked away and was hidden by the jungle.

An hour later the major's party had formed a cordon around the tiger's lair and sent in the beaters. At the first lour the beast charged out with a fierce growl and killed a native with one blow of the paw which had treated the soldier so gently. Three minutes later he wheeled and charged in the other direction, and, though he received bullets from two different rifles, he sprung upon Captain West of the artillery and carried him 200 feet before falling dead. The officer, who had been seized by the neck, was dead long before the tiger gave up the ghost. One of the bullets had cut the beast's heart, and yet he had bounded away with a man weighing 170 pounds in his jaws and seemed to have been only scratched.

CONSTIPATION.

Health is absolutely impossible, if constipation be present. Many serious cases of liver and kidney complaint have sprung from neglected constipation. Such a deplorable condition is unnecessary. There is a cure for it. Herbs will speedily remedy matters. C. A. Lindsay, P. M., Bronson, Fla., writes Feb. 12, 1902: "Having tried Herbs, I find it a fine medicine for constipation." 50c bottle. WAS TODAY APPOINTED CITY
WEIGHER BY THE MAYOR.

Mayor Yeiser this morning appointed Mr. M. W. Johnson, the former councilman, city weigher to succeed William Hessleton who died last night.

Mr. Johnson is a good man and will make the city an excellent officer. He has been associated with municipal affairs for many years and the work is not new to him. He went to work this morning immediately after being appointed. There is to be an election of a new weigher next month, the election being held annually.

HUNG JURY

IN A MAYFIELD MURDER CASE.

At Mayfield a jury is tied up in the case against Con Brooks for manslaughter. He is charged with killing Lon Holmes at Mt. Zion, Graves county, as a result of a boyish quarrel last Christmas.

The case was argued yesterday and given to the jury about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. It went to its room and at press time today had not reached a verdict. It is thought that there is no possible chance to reach a verdict and the jury will be discharged today at the adjournment of court unless some agreement has been reached.

This is about the most important case on the docket in Graves criminal circuit court.

It is screened three separate and distinct times before it enters your coal bin.

CHAPTER I.
On the 1st of May, 1775, the anchor line which for so many months had silver plated the river's bed with gilded crusts was ripped off and dashed into a million gushing fountains by the amber outburst of the springtide flood.

On that day I had laid my plans for fishing.

So certainly was I of a holiday undisturbed by schoolroom tasks that I whistled up boisterously as I sat on my cot bed sorting hooks according to their sizes and smoothing out my feather lines to make sure the moths had not loosened wing or body. It was therefore with mingled delight that I heard Peter and Dick go into the schoolroom.

Now, we had no tasks set us for three weeks, for our schoolmaster, Mr. Yost, journeying with the post to visit his mother in Pennsylvania, had been shot and wounded at Lancaster near Port Pitt.

My guardian, Sir William Johnson, who all knew, was commandant of Indian affairs for the crown, had but recently returned from the upper castle with his secretary, Captain Walter Butler, and, presuppised with the laudable mind of Mr. Yost, had found it time to concern himself with us or our affairs.

So, hurrah! Esk and for Peter on their way to the schoolroom, I took alarm, believing that our new school master had arrived, so seized my fish rod and started to slip out of the house before any one might summon me. However, I was seen in the hallway by Captain Butler, Sir William's secretary, and ordered to find my books and report to him at the schoolroom.

I of course paid no heed to Mr. Butler, but walked deliberately downstairs, although he entreated me twice in his cold, menacing voice. And I should have continued triumphantly out of the door and across the fields to the river had not I met Silver Heels dancing through the lower hallway.

"Oh, Michael!" she cried, "you don't know! Captain Butler has consented to instruct us until the new commandant comes from Albany."

"Who told you that?" I answered sulkily.

"Anit Molly. She sent me to seek you. So now who's going fishing, my lord?"

"If I go," said I, "I won't study my books anyway. I'm too old to study with you and Peter, and I won't."

Sir William's favorite ferret, Vix, with muzzle on, came slinking along the wall, and I grasped the little animal and thrust it at Silver Heels, whereupon she ran upstairs like a wildcat.

There was nothing for me but to go to the schoolroom. I laid my rod in the corner, pocketed the ferret, dragged my books from under the library table and went slowly up the stairs.

At sixteen I was as willful a dunce as ever dragged feet in a schoolroom, knowing barely sufficient Latin to follow Caesar through Gaul, hollering mathematics, scorning the poets and even obstinately marrying my pen writing with a heavy backward stroke.

Destined against my will for Dartmouth college by my guardian, who very well understood that I desired to be a soldier, I had resolutely set myself against every schoolroom accomplishment. And now, to my dismay and rage, Sir William had set me once more in the schoolroom, and under Mr. Butler too!

Silver Heels pulled a face at me because her French grammar book, and I pinched her arm smartly for her impudence. Then, casting about for something to do, I remembered the ferret in my pocket and dragged it out. Removing the alive! but I permitted the ferret to bite Peter's tight breeches, not meaning to hurt him, but Peter screamed, and Sir William came in, very angry, saying that Mistress Molly could hear us in the nursery and that the infant had fallen a roaring with its new teeth.

"I did it, sir," said I, "and Mr. Butler punished Peter."

"Silence!" said Sir William sharply. "Put that ferret out the window!"

"The ferret is your best one, Vix," I answered. "She will run to the warren, and we shall have to dig her out."

"Pock her, then," said Sir William hotly. "Who gave you leave to touch my ferrets? Micky!"

"I replied sulkily.

Then he began to question me concerning certain gods and demigods, and I gaped and floundered as though I were no better than the hasty rabbit I'd eaten by Mr. Butler.

Now to be informed and questioned by Sir William like a scolding lad with one eye on the birch and the other on Mr. Butler did not please me. Moreover, the others were looking on—Esk with link on his nose, Peter in tatters, pelting his limp of spruce, and that wildcat thing, Silver Heels.

I felt for my underlip and got it between my teeth, and for a space not another word would I speak, although that hollow roar began to sound in Sir William's voice which always meant a scene. His whip, too, went snap, snap on his boots, like the tail of a big dog rapping its ribs.

"Turn the children free, Captain Butler," said Sir William in a low voice.

Mr. Butler lunged back the door. The children followed him, Esk bestowing a wink upon me, Peter grunting and tooting in like a Devon duck and that wildcat thing, Silver Heels.

"You need not wait, Captain Butler," said Sir William politely.

Mr. Butler retired, leaving the door swinging. Out in the dark hallway I fancied I could still see his shallow eyes shitting. I may have been mistaken, but all men know now that Walter Butler hath eyes that see as well by night as by the light of the sun, and none know it as well as the people of New York province and of Tryon county.

"Michael," said Sir William, "go to the slate."

I walked across the dusty school room.

"Chink!" shouted Sir William, irritant by my lagging steps.

I picked up a lump of chalk, holding it in my palm as boys do a pebble in a sling.

Something in my eyes may have infuriated Sir William.

The next moment he had me by the arm, then by the collar, whip whistling like the chimney wind, and whistling quite as litly, for the blow never fell.

"Keep your lash for your hounds!" I stammered.

He did not seem to hear me, but I planted myself in a corner and cried out that he dare not lay his whip on me, which was a shameful thing to

THE VALUE OF TRAINING.
What Has Become of Two Classes From a Technological School.

Two classes of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, one of which graduated five and the other ten years ago, have recently published two little volumes in which their members tell what has happened to them since they graduated. These volumes show the relation between a modern technological education and success in the actual bread and butter struggle of daily living in an interesting way.

None of these graduates may be said to have failed to make a good living, a large majority, of course, having followed one or another of the engineering professions for which the institute trains its students. In actual earning capacity the greater number now make from $1,500 to $2,000 a year, while a small percentage in the comparatively short time since they took their diplomas have reached a yearly earning capacity of between $20,000 and $30,000. The average "life" is a story of advance more or less rapid from one position in the manufacturing world to another, but during the past decade hardly an important public work has gone forward without the help of one or more young men from technology.

Perhaps the most adventurous career the little book describes is that of a young Englishman educated, like many other foreigners nowadays, at this American technical school. "After graduating," he says, "I entered the electric light branch of her majesty's postoffice, where I soon rose to be senior officer and had charge of a shift.

Then in 1880 I became superintendent foreman at Malta. Eighteen ninety-seven found me with the Telephotograph company, and in 1898 I was construction engineer in the Manchester office of the Expanded Metal company, and 1900 I spent in South Africa fighting for my country with the City Imperial volunteers.

"On returning to England I was called to the bar and at once joined the northern circuit. But I have returned to my old love, and I am now junior, but acting and managing partner of a firm which was founded in 1759 and has ever since been the tip-top house in London for everything connected with light."

Another graduate invented the "radium ball," which made such a sensation last winter, and yet another supervised the construction of the Hershoff cup defender Columbine.

Your Heart

May Be Weak. One Person in Four Has a Weak Heart.

One of the surest signs of a weak heart is shortness of breath after exercise. Your heart is not able to pump the blood fast enough to your lungs.

Some of the other symptoms of heart trouble are: Pains in the Side, Back and Shoulder; Fainting or Weak Spells; Dry Cough; Swelling of Feet and Ankles; Cold Feet or Hands.

No one can afford to allow a weak heart to go without medicine, because weak heart means poor circulation, and poor circulation means weak lungs, stomach, liver, kidneys, etc.

If, therefore, you suspect heart trouble, begin taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. The Heart Cure will do you good, as it is a splendid tonic for the blood and nerves, and will revitalize your entire system.

Finally, remember, Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold under a guarantee that the first bottle will do you good.

If it doesn't—your money back.

He was afflicted with heart trouble for three years, and could be apparently all right and without any trouble, but would fail as though shot. The attacks were frequent and a terrible dread possessed me, as I did not know where, nor under what conditions I would be attacked and whether I would survive them. I consulted an eminent physician of the state. Not finding relief from this source, I began taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and began to improve at once. I used the bottle which entirely cured me, as I have not had an attack for five years.—M. T. DRESDACK, Lepel.

"Oh," said I, "if there is somebody come a-prying it must be Silver Heels!" And I turned around, pretending ignorance at the justness of my hazard.

"My name isn't Silver Heels," she observed. "Call me by my right name and perhaps I'll go away, and perhaps I won't."

"If I call you Felicity Warren will you go?" I inquired.

"There, you have called me Felicity Warren," she cried in triumph.

"I didn't," said I in a temper; "I only said that there was such a person. But you are not that person. Anyway you

Lo-Co-Moter Ataxia. Now in Good Health.

Dr. M. M. Fenner, Fredonia, N. Y.

Dear Sir—After a sickness of more than five years, I was tempted to try your Kidney and Backache Cure. In the mean time I had tried or been under about 20 doctors at the beginning of my trouble. It was thought to be only a local one, but as time wore on I became worse, so that at last I could not stand on my feet. Then my arms and hands became useless.

But at last after a very long time the use of both came back to me so that I could walk a little with the aid of crutches. The Doctor helped me to this point and an farther, and for 24 years I kept in the same condition.

Through the aid of your Kidney and Backache Cure I am now in good health.

Will say, the doctors told me all of them that there was no cure for me, because I was then suffering from Lo-Co-Moter Ataxia.

I remain yours respectfully,

Use Shoffner's Sure Cure

The Great Tonic and Blood Purifier—Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia and Catarrh.

It is a trite and true saying that the "blood is the life." Now where does the blood come from? Everybody knows, or should know, that it comes from the nutritive elements extracted by the stomach from the food we eat. If the digestive organs do not perform their functions by reason of disease germs, there is no nutrition extracted, and the food might better be thrown in the dump to decay and breed germs in the open air than to remain in the stomach and become a rotten, putrid mass, as it naturally does if there is no digestion. No disease germ can live and find lodgment in a human body that uses the Shoffner's Sure Cure. Price $1.00.

What People Say of the Shoffner Sure Cure.

PADUCAH, Ky., March 5, 1903.

To Whom It May Concern:

This late certain I was a sufferer with Indigestion for five years and could get no relief until I bought one bottle of Shoffner's Sure Cure, and it helped me much. I took six bottles and it helped me sound and well, thanks to the Shoffner's Sure Cure.

MRS. JOHN SNEEDLE, 806 S. Third St.

This is to certify that I believe the Shoffner Sure Cure saved my life. I was not able to sit up in bed when I began taking the remedy. I had such a severe cough I thought I had consumption. Physicians had given me up to die. After taking one bottle I was able to sit up some. After using five bottles I was fully restored to health. I cannot say enough in favor of this wonderful remedy for indigestion.

If after using one bottle according to directions you are not benefited, your money will be refunded.

PAINTER GONE

Two Negroes Arrested For False
Swearing This Morning.

A painter giving the name of Lancaster and several other names, is badly wanted by the local police. Lancaster had been boarding and rooming at the Kettler house on Third street near Clark, and in the same room slept Messrs. J. D. Monroe and M. H. Gordon. Last night the gentlemen retired and later Lancaster came in. This morning when the two gentlemen awoke they found Lancaster's clothes lying on the floor but a portion of theirs gone. From Monroe had been taken an overcoat, shoes and $6 in money and a fine suit of clothes. From Gordon, Lancaster is alleged to have taken a hat. The union cigar makers' card of Mr. Monroe is also missing and it is presumed the man took this also.

Lancaster cannot be located and it is presumed he has left the city.

The local police have received a warning from the National Hotel Keepers' Protective Association, of New York, to look out for R. C. Murphy, age 23, 135 pounds, 5 feet 10 and a half inches, light complexion, who has been drawing drafts on Messrs. Murphy, of New York and F. De Bary, of New York. He is not connected with either of the firms and if detected will be arrested and returned to New York, where he will be prosecuted.

Pete Brone and Jim Atkins, colored, were arrested this morning on a warrant charging false swearing. Bruce was arraigned in police court this week for a breach of the peace and swore directly opposite to good, substantial witnesses. The court later learning that some of the testimony of Brone and Atkins, the latter a witness, was false, issued the warrant. Brone this week brought suit against the city for $10,000 for working him on the streets.

RUNAWAY HORSE

THROWS MF. P. GLADFELTER
OUT OF WAGON.

Mr. M. P. Gladfelter of the Moran & Ballowe blacksmith shop, narrowly escaped serious injury this morning about 9 o'clock in front of the city hall when the horse he was driving became frightened and ran away.

The horse dashed into another wagon, the hubs coming together. The horse immediately began to rear up and started running. The wagon was overturned. Gladfelter thrown out and alighted on his head.

He was rendered unconscious and was picked up by Policeman Cross and Orr and several bystanders. In a few moments he recovered and an examination proved his wounds slight. The wagon was righted and found to be undamaged and the horse escaped injury also.

The horse saw it was going to run into another wagon at the Grief blacksmith shop, and sat down sliding up to the wagon and barely grazing it with its nose.

TURKEYS SCARCE

MANY ARE HOLDING THEM BACK FOR BETTER PRICES.

Turkeys for Thanksgiving which will soon be in great demand, are plentiful in the country, but scarce in the city. The farmers are holding them, it seems, and are in no particular hurry to dispose of them until the prices are shoved up to the highest point.

This week the prices have varied. Turkeys on foot have been bringing from 12 1-2 to 15 cents gross, per pound, and dressed turkeys bring a little more. It is said that by Monday the farmers will begin bringing in their turkeys but the steady price is about 15 cents per pound on foot.
